NOVEMBER LUNCHEON PROGRAM

Election Recap with Public Television's Rob Lorei

It seems like we've been listening to the prognosticating pundits on the 2012 election for years. Soon we'll be able to look at actual election results and try to figure out what they mean. We are fortunate to have Rob Lorei to help us.

On WEDU's "Florida This Week," Rob Lorei moderates a diverse roundtable of journalists, academics, officials, and other political insiders for lively talk. Always a favorite speaker at luncheons and economic forums in Sarasota, he holds celebrity status among Democrats. So who could be better to address the Democratic Club just four days after the 2012 presidential election?

Lorei will apply his years of political experience to his analysis of the outcome of November 6th and what it means for the future of Florida and the United States.

Besides serving as the Managing Editor and moderator of "Florida This Week," Lorei is a co-founder of WMNF Radio and is currently the station's News and Public Affairs

Director. He is on the air at 10 each morning with his new radio show, "Radioactivity." He attended Antioch College where he received a BA in Journalism in 1977. He got his start in radio there as a news reporter at the campus NPR station, WYSO. Lorei has covered local politics for more than 20 years and has moderated numerous televised political debates. He has received awards for reporting from the Florida ACLU, the Sierra Club, Amnesty International, the Sarasota Coalition for Peace and Justice, and the Florida Consumer Action Network.

Please join us on Saturday, November 10 to get a better understanding of how the election will likely impact Florida and the U.S.

LUNCHEON DETAILS: See back page

NOTE: The luncheon is at the Laurel Oak Country Club. Drinks will be available for sale at a bar near the luncheon meeting room.

Last Month: Ion Sancho says voter suppression isn't new Voter suppression is a major topic in 2012, but Ion Sancho says voter suppression is nothing new in the U.S. Sancho, the 6-term Leon County Supervisor of Elections and an expert on election procedures, was the guest speaker at the club's October Wine, Cheese & Politics event.

"Election laws have been written by partisans for partisan effect," Sancho said. The term "voter suppression" was first used in 1851 to describe a strategy to prevent people not in power from gaining power. The purpose of the first voter registration law was to prevent voting.

Sancho said that the current voter suppression effort in Florida is simply the state carrying out the American tradition of "do anything and say anything to win." When the Florida Constitution was amended in 1998 to convert the position of Secretary of State from a partisan elected officer to the governor's appointee, the decision was made to not place the Division of Elections in a nonpartisan department. We all saw the effect of that with Secretary of State Katherine Harris's role in the 2000 election.

Sancho pointed to improvements in Florida's election process between 2000 and 2006. A fair Voter ID provision allowed university students to use their student IDs to vote. Early voting didn't increase turnout, but helped eliminate bottlenecks on election day.

Sancho isn't as pleased with the ex-

What do we include in the newsletter?

Democrats have a lot to say – and the Board encourages club members to say it with articles or letters to the editor for our newsletter!

Unfortunately, there is limited space. Dealing with this dilemma, the Board adopted the following list of policies and procedures:

Articles and letters to the editor from club members will be accepted on a space available basis using the following priorities:

1. Local information of immediate importance to club members
2. Articles or letters from members who have not written recently
3. Articles or letters relating to state issues.
4. Articles or letters relating to national issues.

Due to limited space, articles and letters should be written as concisely as possible (between 100 and 150 words) and once submitted, may be edited. Letters to the editor should contain statements of proposed action by the membership.

Submission Deadline:

Third Saturday of the month for the next issue

President's Column

Dear Members and Friends,

The Democratic Club stayed busy in October with several events, including our annual fundraiser on the Marina Jack II cruise boat. In the midst of all the campaign activity, it was nice to gather on beautiful Sarasota Bay and honor the late Dr. Carroll Buchanan and Dr. Kenneth Edelin for their dedication to Democratic ideals and values. I'd like to thank everyone who attended, along with our sponsors and advertisers for making the event a success.

The Democratic Club of Sarasota is committed to making a difference by helping Democrats stay informed and in touch with each other, by raising Democratic awareness in our community, and by funding special projects that support our local Democratic Party. So far in 2012 we have hosted 22 events with speakers, participated in over a dozen community outreach events, and were sponsors of several local charity events. We also invested over $20,000 in a Vote by Mail Campaign in coordination with the Sarasota County Democratic Party.

It has been a fruitful year and we couldn't do it without the commitment and generosity of our members.

We are now in the final hours of the event we've been talking about and working toward for the past two years. Election Day 2012 — the Presidential election — is only a few days away. The pace of political activity is at its height in our nation and right here in Sarasota County. Democratic headquarters on South Tamiami Trail and the Obama for America (OFA) office on Fruitville Road are bursting at the seams with volunteers. Our local candidates are campaigning at full speed.

There are conflicting reports on the ground games of the two presidential campaigns, but the majority agree that OFA is even more organized than in 2008 and is outpacing our opponents in voter contact. In Ohio alone, the campaign has 120 field offices and here in Florida, 102. Campaign contributions matter, debates matter, ads matter, media coverage matters, but don't ever doubt the power of the ground game. The combined efforts of OFA and local Democratic Party organizations will be a significant factor in the final outcome on November 6th. And participation in that ground game is what all of us at the local level bring to the table.

We hope to see you on November 6th at the Club-sponsored Election Night Victory Party at the Portside Patio at Marina Jack. We are bringing in a large screen projection TV and will have other televisions strategically located in the seating areas, along with Marina Jack's standard mounted TVs. Most of our local candidates will be there with us, as will Democratic Party leadership. Marina Jack is the place to be on election night.

In closing I'd like to recognize FOCUS Newsletter editor, Debbie Trice, for the outstanding job she has done with this publication for the past seven years. This will be her last issue and she will be greatly missed.

Democratically yours,

Mary

From Your Membership Co-Chairs

Dear Democratic Club Members and Friends,

It's almost here. The election we have been working so hard to impact is just around the corner. Your contributions to their campaigns have enabled our candidates to fight the good fight in Sarasota County, but we're not finished.

- Check the Sarasota County Democratic Party website (www.sarasotadems.org) or go to the Party HQ at 7358 S Tamiami Trail in Sarasota (phone 330-9400) to phone bank, make calls to chase down absentee ballots that haven't been mailed in yet, do data entry, and a host of other needs to help all our candidates reach the finish line.
- Canvass
- Train to be a poll watcher
- Be a greeter at an early voting site
- Help your Precinct Captain on election day

After you've helped out wherever you could, the final thing to do is join our Sarasota County Democratic Friends Election Night Victory Party on November 6 after the polls close at 7 PM at Marina Jack's Portside Patio to watch the returns roll in.

This celebration — an opportunity to join with local Democrats to see the final results of all our hard work — is happening because of your generosity. Thanks to you, the Democratic Club of Sarasota and the Longboat Key Democratic Club will be sponsoring "Democratic Central," the place to be on election night. We will be providing a large screen TV with additional TVs placed throughout the patio. Local candidates will join us to watch the results. Food and beverages will be available for purchase. There will be no admission charge for this club-sponsored event.

A lot of work remains in the days ahead and, being good Democrats, we'll get it done.

Once again, we thank you for your membership and continued support. Because of you, Democrats are on the move in Sarasota County.

Pat Liebert: A Living Legacy

Pat Liebert is a font of information. She is also a good evaluator of the data, and a master of making them useful.

Pat did pioneer work for both Florida and the federal government in the 1970's, developing research tools, first to assess social needs and then to evaluate the resulting social welfare programs.

Moving to Champaign-Urbana where her husband taught, she also did nationwide evaluation of the Job Corps and prison education programs.

With two small children at home, Pat decided to give up travel, and settled into a career as a systems analyst and financial data analyst at the University of Illinois. But she had always hoped to have more influence on public policy-making.

Early retirement brought Pat to Sarasota and immersion in politics. She worked on local campaigns and in Tallahassee on Carter's 1976 presidential race. She has held every office but Secretary of the Champaign County Democratic Party. As President of our Democratic Club, she grew the membership to over 650, only leaving to run the Coordinated Campaign of 2008. That year, she is proud to recall, we had a high water mark of 20 Democratic candidates locally.

Pat remains on the Party's Steering Committee but also is active in social justice causes. She is Treasurer of Farmworkers Supporters, President of the Better Government Association, and member of the Residents Interest Committee to improve the lives of public housing residents — all positions of service, but also platforms from which to advocate for better public policy on social needs.

pansion of Absentee Balloting. There is a higher reject rate of absentee ballots than of in-person ballots. The #1 reason why absentee ballots are rejected is that the voter forgets to sign the envelope. Absentee ballots are also the most likely vehicle for voter fraud because the signature on the envelope is the only way to "confirm" that it was completed by the registered voter. (One of the 2011 changes in Florida's election law eliminates the right to challenge decisions of the Canvassing Board on whether a signature is valid.)

Sancho and the Supervisors of Elections in the other Florida counties were shocked when the Legislature changed the elections law in 2011 without consulting them.

Good-bye and Thank You

This is my last issue as editor of FOCUS. After close to 8 years of reporting on monthly luncheons and assembling each issue (92 to be exact!), it's time for me to step back and let someone else take the lead.

Thank you for taking the time to read this newsletter each month. Thank you, also, for your feedback — suggestions, constructive criticism and compliments.

I especially want to thank the many individuals whose contributions made FOCUS possible:

- Officers, board members and club volunteers who contributed regular content: club presidents Mary Clupper, Nancy Feehan and Pat Liebert; Charolett Baker, Jane Callahan, Kathy Cook, Tom Cook, Pat Coville, JoAnne DeVries, Jane Greenfield, Dick Happy, Paula John, Barbara Johnson, Gerry Preston and Mary Preston,
- Photographers Felton Anderson, Phil Gaines, Connie Goldstein, Jerry Osterweil, Gerry Preston, the late Dennis Silver and Dick Stammer,

Grace Nelson's Concerns for America

Mrs. Grace Nelson, our US Senator's wife, came to Sarasota for a special Wine, Cheese & Politics event.

Although her primary purpose was to campaign for her husband's reelection, she also discussed her concerns about negative ads and hate speech. What does the success of negative campaigning teach America's children? she wondered. "You can bully, you can lie — and that's how you win."

The latest round of voter suppression? That's changing the rules in the middle of the game in order to win. What is that teaching our children? she asked.

Grace is concerned about what is happening in the US. Clearly, economic problems, wars and drug abuse are critical, but she considers the biggest problem to be hate. Hate isn't just reflected in the partisan divide in Washington, but extends throughout the country. The attack on Gabby Giffords is just one example.

Grace recounted a conversation she had with Paul Kagame, President of Rwanda, when he visited the US. He expressed surprise that "hate radio" is permitted to thrive here after we witnessed how hate radio incited ethnic genocide in Rwanda. Hate radio incites the worst of our passions, he told her, and most affected are the young people.

After the election, after we reelect Barack Obama and Bill Nelson, Grace hopes we will work together to change the culture of hate that is developing.

—Debbie Trice

- Proofreaders Diane Happy and Dee Widder,
- Dick Stammer who makes sure each member who wants a printed copy gets one, (Month after month, Dick and his late wife Diane maintained the mailing list with additions, deletions and all sorts of changes. Initially, they even addressed each issue and placed it in the mail. Dick still maintains the mailing list which contains close to 600 names and addresses.)
- Andy Nilssen who works his magic to make the online version of FOCUS display and download quickly,
- And, finally, the two editors who preceded me, Terry Greenwood and Dick Happy, who established a format and processes which made it easy for me to continue their work.

Heartfelt thanks to you all.

Are you wondering how I plan to fill my time once I no longer have FOCUS to produce each month? I've been working on developing a new business. With the 2012 election and FOCUS behind me, I'll be able to devote my full attention to the business. You can follow my progress online at debbietrice.blogspot.com.
